

Provincial Conference: Innovative Primary Care Models for Seniors' Health

October 10, 2017

Red Deer, Alberta

Be one of the 150 primary health care practitioners (physicians, nurses, allied health professionals), researchers, and representatives from community partner organization at this Provincial conference. Heighten your awareness of frailty, its impact on the health care system, and the essential role of primary care. Learn about current innovative models of seniors' care and take home strategies to improve inter-professional communication and practice management. Hear from patients and caregivers on care experiences in the community. Network with other attendees and explore the provincial context of system-wide change being pursued to enhance primary health care.

OBJECTIVES:

- ✓ Explore the Provincial context for system-wide change to enhance primary health care and current innovative models for seniors being implemented within primary care in Alberta;
- ✓ Discuss inter-professional and inter-organizational communication as contributors to successful integration of innovative programs and initiatives;
- ✓ Discuss the impact of frailty as a key driver of current health care system costs and explore the foundational role of primary health care in supporting seniors living with frailty;
- ✓ Recognize patient and family/caregiver experiences with the current healthcare system.

WHEN:

October 10, 2017 from 8:00am – 3:30pm

WHERE:

Sheraton Red Deer Hotel: 3310 50 Avenue,
Red Deer, Alberta

COST:

No fee for registration! Hot breakfast, lunch and two coffee breaks will be provided. Travel expenses will not be covered.

To express your interest in attending this conference, please contact Julia Dabravolskaj at JDabravolskaj@edmontonoliverpcn.com no later than September 1, 2017!

* This Provincial conference is organized by the Seniors' Community Hub—Edmonton Oliver Primary Care Network in collaboration with Alberta Health Services, Seniors' Health Strategic Clinical Network, and the Covenant Health Network of Excellence in Seniors' Health and Wellness teams.

 This conference is made possible by funding received from the Alberta Innovates Community Engagement and Conference Grant 2017 and the Covenant Health Network of Excellence in Seniors' Health and Wellness Innovation Fund 2015.

7.30 – 8.00	Registration and breakfast
8.00 – 8.05	Welcoming message Dr. Scott Oddie, Dr. Marjan Abbasi, Dr. Sheny Khera
8.05 – 8.20	Patients perspectives on seniors' care in Alberta Patient representatives
8.20 – 9.00	“What really drives health care costs – not what you think!” Dr. Richard Lewanczyk
9.00 – 9.45	“Frailty in primary care” Dr. Marjan Abbasi, Dr. Sheny Khera
9.45 – 10.00	Coffee break
10.00 – 11.15	Breakout sessions
	Interprofessional collaboration as the key element of successful implementation of innovative programs and quality of care Dr. Sharla King, Melanie Garrison	Lessons learned from Central Zone Primary Health Care Integrated Geriatric Services Initiative. Collaborative work with Strategic Clinical Networks – development and implementation of integrated community geriatric services Charlene Knudsen	Supporting caregivers/families of seniors living with complex chronic conditions and frailty Dr. Jasneet Parmar	Change management and its role in enabling widespread organizational change Mirella Chiodo
11.15 – 12.15	Networking lunch
12.15 – 12.30	Patients perspectives on seniors' care in Alberta Patient representatives
12.30 – 13.00	Plenary session: Provost Primary Care Network Geriatric Services: A Team Approach Trisha Dambrowsky
13.00 – 13.15	Coffee break
13.15 – 14.30	Breakout sessions
	Interprofessional collaboration as the key element of successful implementation of innovative programs and quality of care Dr. Sharla King, Melanie Garrison	Lessons learned from Central Zone Primary Health Care Integrated Geriatric Services Initiative. Collaborative work with Strategic Clinical Networks – development and implementation of integrated community geriatric services Charlene Knudsen	Supporting caregivers/families of seniors living with complex chronic conditions and frailty Dr. Jasneet Parmar	Change management and its role in enabling widespread organizational change Mirella Chiodo
14.30 – 14.45	Networking break
14.45 – 15.15	“What we’ve heard...” Patient representatives
15.15 – 15.30	Concluding remarks			